Having survived their first NBA season as a married couple, Khloe Kardashian and Lamar Odom have found a nice balance between career and family. The secret to a happy home, despite the time apart, she says, is simply "caring enough to make it work."

"It's easy to not make it work, but I am so blessed to have someone who loves me and wants to make it work," the reality star, 25, told PEOPLE Saturday at sister Kourtney's birthday pool party at Wet Republic in Las Vegas.

Kardashian was just in Oklahoma City to see her husband and his Los Angeles Lakers in the NBA playoffs against the Oklahoma City Thunder. She left Oklahoma to celebrate with her sisters in Vegas, sipping Bombay Sapphire cocktails in the sun.

Kardashian was sporting a large sparkling necklace bearing Odom's initials, and her mind wasn't far from her husband. "We definitely see each other a lot," she says. "I love our situation."

The other thing that comes in handy in her marriage: a newfound love of basketball. "I've never been into basketball until now," she says. "So, for me to be as into it as I am is cool. Weird, but cool."

Kourtney Kardashian Pumps Boobs Before Birthday Party

Today 12:43 PM PDT by CRISTINA GIBSON

It's fine to get wet at a pool party, but not before you go swimming. Just ask Kourtney Kardashian, who celebrated her 31st birthday at Wet Republic on Saturday.

Before the birthday girl could hit her bash, she had to take care of some boob business.

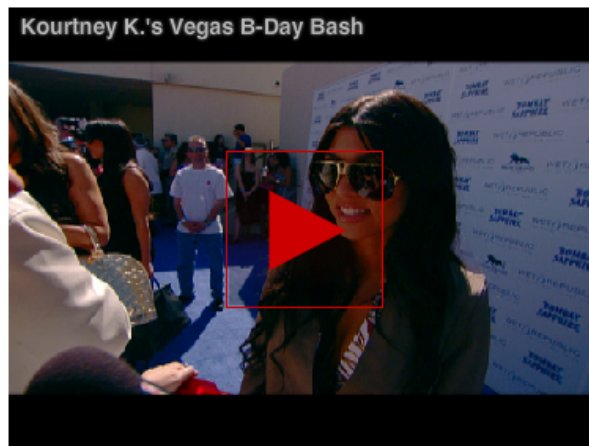

"Right before we walked down, Kourt was pumping her boobs to make sure the milk wouldn't start leaking at the party!" Kim dished to E! News about how things have changed for the famous sisters since the arrival of baby Mason.

(We're sure she appreciated the TMI scoop!)

Although Mason and baby daddy Scott Disick weren't at Kourt's Sin City pool party, Kourtney told E! that her boyfriend celebrated with her the weekend before...

"Scott surprised me and we went to Santa Barbara and had a little away time," Kourtney said.

But their relaxing getaway didn't last too long—the new mom says she was ready to leave at 7 a.m. the next morning to get back to her baby!

Kourtney Kardashian's post-pregnancy diet has worked so well that she's skinnier than little sis Kim.

"My sister weighs less than I do, and she just had a baby -- so that's kind of fascinating to me!" Kim, 29, told UsMagazine.com at Wet Republic in Las Vegas Saturday, where she celebrated Kourtney's 31st birthday with Khloe.

"She looks amazing!" continued Kim, who wore a black Robert Rodriguez jumper, L'Wren jewels and skyhigh Proenza Schouler heels. (Kim is 5-foot-3, while Kourtney is just 5-foot-1.)

So how did Kourtney slim down after having Mason last December?

"Definitely breastfeeding helps," she told Us. "Everyone says that, but it's really true -- and it's just being a busy mom."

Khloe, 25, wishes she could drop weight as easily as her sister.

"If that's all it takes, breastfeeding?" she joked to Us. "Then someone breastfeed off of me! I don't care!"

Kim Kardashian hosts sister Kourtney's 31st birthday in Las Vegas

April 26, 2010 | 7:14 am

Kourtney Kardashian got a little playtime in Las Vegas this weekend, as she celebrated turning 31 with sisters Kim and Khloe in tow.

At MGM's Wet Republic on Saturday, the women partied with locals, sang "Happy Birthday to You" and lounged in their swanky Bombay Sapphire private cabana with raspberry Collins cocktails.

Kourtney recently graced the cover of Life & Style magazine, chatting about how she earned back her pre-baby body back after delivering Mason, now 4 months old.

She said she's limited her caffeine intake to a single shot of espresso per day and cut out sugars.

"I was eating a lot of dried fruit, and I didn't realize how much sugar that added. And now I'll eat raw almonds instead of salted ones," she told the mag.

Her exercise regime is cardio-heavy, with lots of running and squats to keep her booty "up there."

"Frozen yogurt tastes so chemically to me because I've been eating salads and salmon and chicken," she said of her post-baby cravings.

Kim Kardashian, Kourtney Kardashian and Khloe Kardashian celebrate Kourtney's 31st birthday at MGM's Wet Republic on April 24, 2010.

It was a sensational sunshine day in Las Vegas yesterday, and the stars turned out in full force to enjoy the perfect desert weather.

Kim and Khloe Kardashian threw a 31st birthday celebration yesterday for older sister and new mom Kourtney at Wet Republic at MGM Grand, and photographer Denise Truscello was on the red carpet welcome for the trio and then in their exclusive VIP bungalow when a towering cake was presented to the birthday girl.

Hopes of seeing the trio partying in skimpy bikinis were dashed when they decided that a stunning fashion show was more in order for their appearance. I talked with all three sisters, and they happily spilled upcoming secrets of Season 5 of E! Entertainment's Keeping Up With the Kardashians, which starts shooting this week.

The Kardashian Sisters Go To A Pool Party

The Kardashian sisters celebrated Kourtney's 31st birthday on Saturday at Wet Republic in Las Vegas. They stayed uncharacteristically covered up for the cameras... maybe those tabloid bikini covers pay more that way?

Kim told Us Weekly that Kourtney, four months after giving birth, already weighs less than she does. Kim is 5'3" and Kourtney is 5'1." Kourtney attributed her speedy weight loss to breastfeeding--a strategy Khloe would like to try.

"If that's all it takes, breastfeeding?" she told Us. "Then someone breastfeed off of me! I don't care!"

Kardashians Ko-ordinated! Sisters up the glamour stakes at Las Vegas party

By Sarah Bull

It's hard to stand out when your sisters are Kardashians.

So Kim, Khloe and Kourtney settled for complementing each other yesterday as they celebrated Kourtney's 31st birthday party at Wet Republic, the Las Vegas hotspot in the MGM Grand Hotel, on Saturday.

The trio managed to look both trendy and co-ordinated while each displaying their unique sense of style.

Daily Mail (UK)

Kim opted for a low-cut Robert Rodriguez playsuit which showed off her long legs, statuesque Khloe went for a striped maxi dress and Kourtney decided on a grey minidress over a white and brown swimsuit.

But while Kim, arguably the most famous of the three sisters, is usually the centre of attention, on Saturday the focus was almost entirely on Kourtney, who looked incredible having given birth to son Mason just four months ago.

Svelte: Kourtney was back to her pre-pregnancy figure, despite having only given birth four months ago

And Kourtney's amazing new figure hasn't gone unnoticed by Kim, 29, who is furious her older sister now weighs less than her.

She told UsMagazine.com: 'My sister weighs less than I do, and she just had a baby - so that's kind of fascinating to me!'

'She looks amazing!'

But Kourtney, like so many other new mothers, has put the weight loss down to breastfeeding.

She said: 'Definitely breastfeeding helps. Everyone says that, but it's really true - and it's just being a busy mom.'

What are you doing, Kim? Kourtney and Khloe look despairingly at their sister, who is pulling a sexy pose at their jewellery launch

After hearing Kourtney share her diet tips, Khloe, 25, is keen to jump on the bandwagon as well, laughing: 'Is that's all it takes, breastfeeding? Then someone breastfeed off of me! I don't care!'

It was a busy weekend for the girls, who had been in Orange County earlier on Saturday for the launch of their new Armenian-inspired jewellery line VSA (Virgin Saints & Angels).

Sleek: But the group were soon back to their glamorous selves

In fact the launch was so busy that Kim wrote on her Twitter page: 'Wow so many people here at Nordstrom's for our VSA Armenian inspired collection! Fire Marshall just showed up!'

But the day didn't go without drama as the girls, who travelled to Las Vegas for the birthday party in heels and minidresses, were forced to take off their shoes to go through airport security.

Laughing as they removed their super-high heels, Kim, Kourtney and Khloe quickly passed through the scanner before putting their shoes back on the other side.

Post-Pregnancy Diet: Kourtney Kardashian Skinner Than Kim!

Posted Monday, April 26th, 2010

Mirror, mirror on the wall tell me who's skinner: Kourtney or Kim Kardashian? According to what Kim says, Kourtney gained her sexy look back due to her post-pregnancy diet.

"My sister weighs less than I do, and she just had a baby so that's kind of fascinating to me!" 29 years old Kim told Us at Wet Republic in Las Vegas Saturday. The family was gathered there to celebrate Kourtney's 31st birthday. "She looks amazing!" Kim added.

KOURTNEY KARDASHIAN CELEBRATES HER BIRTHDAY ON THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE ARMENIAN GENOCIDE

Joined by her younger sisters Kim and Khloe, girl of the hour Kourtney Kardashian was all smiles as she celebrated her 31st birthday at Wet Republic in Las Vegas today (April 24).

Joined by hundreds and hundreds of their closest friends, the reality TV trio posed for photos, sipped on exotic drinks, posed for more photos, pretended to eat some cake and then posed for even more photos all in the name of Kourtney. And, of course, the big fat check MGM Grand Hotel & Casino paid them for celebrating her birthday almost a week after the real day.

Before stepping out for her big day, Kourtney channeled her inner Debbie Downer as she tweeted: “I would like everyone to take a moment and say a prayer for all of the millions of people killed in the Armenian Genocide.”

Faded Youth

As many of you know, today marks the anniversary of a tragic day in Armenian history. The Armenian Genocide, also known as the Armenian Holocaust, refers to the systematic destruction of the Armenian population of the Ottoman Empire during and just after World War I. During this mournful period in history, it is believed that between one and one and a half million people were murdered.

That said, do you think that it's right for the Kardashian sisters — who claim to be proud Armenians though they have never stepped foot in the country — to be boozing it up and partying it down during such a significant day?
